OneShield Announces Dragon Surety and Bond Product

WESTBOROUGH, Mass. –October 24, 2007 – OneShield Inc., a provider of innovative technology driven policy administration and automated workflow solutions, today announced the addition of Dragon Surety to their product portfolio. OneShield has successfully deployed Dragon Surety to production with a major US P & C carrier. The implementation took full advantage of the robust Dragon tool-set including Dragon designer for user interface customization and the Dragon workflow, rules and rating engine for quick product definition.

“OneShield is pleased to add Surety and Bonds to our growing list of personal and commercial configurable product offerings,” says Glenn Anschutz, Chief Executive Officer, OneShield. “We now have the opportunity to implement Dragon in the Surety and Bond market which is an exciting new P & C vertical for our team,” adds Anschutz.

Dragon Surety offers a full range of Commercial bond products including License and Permit Bonds, Public Official Bonds, Court Bonds (judicial, admiralty, and fiduciary bonds), Service Bonds and ERISA. “Some of the Dragon functionality includes automatic broker of record check, automated issuance or declination of bonds based on underwriting rules and credit based scoring, and power of attorney validation and execution at the time of bond issuance,” comments Heather Peacock, Senior Vice President of Sales and Client Services. “This functionality, coupled with Dragon’s robust product configuration tools will provide a comprehensive solution for carriers to rapidly deploy their Surety and Bond products,” adds Peacock.
